

Budget and Tax Program Occupies Chief Notice Of Capital Observers

Speculation Hinges on Three Possible Points, a 15-Million Budget Gain, No New Taxes, Tax Revenue.

TAX REPORT DUE

Legislature Receives State Mayors' Plea for Complete Local Home Relief Administration.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 9 (AP)—Speculation on Governor Herbert H. Lehman's 1936-37 budget and tax program, which must be submitted to the New York legislature by next Wednesday, occupied capital observers today as the lawmakers marked time awaiting resumption of work next week.

While contents of the program have been carefully guarded, it appeared likely that:

The budget will be at least $15,000,000 higher than the current $297,000,000 program, due to increased debt service, several necessary departmental appropriations, and the need for funds for the proposed fight on crime and administration of the Federal Security Act.

No new taxes will be proposed in spite of the deficit of approximately $100,000,000, although slight increases in present levies may be recommended.

Increased revenue will be noted from current taxes, such as motor vehicle, motor fuel and alcoholic beverage.

In speculating on the forthcoming program, observers have in mind the recent statement of former Senator Seabury C. Mastic that the state commission for the revision of tax laws will soon report to the legislature that there is no need for additional taxes and that the present revenues will produce the expenses of government and yield a surplus of at least $25,000,000.

Last year, the governor recommended and obtained legislative approval of new and additional taxes of $56,000,000, including an additional one-cent gasoline tax designed to produce $16,250,000.

Roosevelt Deficit
Mr. Lehman, in assuming office in 1933, inherited a deficit of $116,000,000 from the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The following year, encouraged by improved business conditions, the governor put through a $81,000,000 tax reduction program, abolishing the sales tax and considerably lightening the burden of the one per cent emergency income tax on persons of small means.

The year 1934, however, brought an unexpected reduction in inheritance and stock-transfer taxes, with the result the deficit was cut only about $30,000,000.

The Republicans, returned to control of the Assembly after a lapse of a year, obviously will scrutinize every detail of the budget program and make it one of their major issues.

The party already has asked repeal of the additional one-cent gasoline tax, reducing the state tax from four to three cents, and has pledged itself for reduction of taxes.

Plea For Relief Rule
Also New York state's Legislature had before it today a plea from the state mayors' conference for complete local administration of home relief "subject only to such state supervision as is necessary to insure that the state's share of the cost is properly handled."

The conference, in a program embracing 26 recommendations, urged the state place municipal welfare work on a permanent basis as rapidly as possible.

Municipal Welfare Administration
Now in under the direct supervision of the state through the Temporary Emergency Relief Administration.

The conference program supplements one involving municipal finances and taxation sent to the legislature earlier in the week. This recommendation urged a broadening of the tax base to relieve the burden on real estate and modified "pay as you go" policy for municipalities.

The conference asked that the state share the cost of home relief equally with the cities. At present the state pays 40 per cent and the cities the remainder.

Other Recommendations Proposed:
Curbing of tax lien sharks by enactment of a law preventing purchase of tax liens and deeds making excessive charges to owners desiring to redeem their property.

To tighten and clarify laws governing property tax exemptions so that they will apply only where property is devoted entirely to a religious, philanthropic or charitable purpose.

Banks will be permitted to secure municipal deposits with collateral security.

Lower city officials of liability for loss of municipal revenue resulting from bank failures.

Creation of a municipal office, board or body to make traffic regulations.

Permitting second class villages to designate their own officers of travel.

Permitting municipalities to recall the time and position occupied by those involving interested persons.

A state law regulating automobile sales from transportation in business districts.

Hiltebrant, Carter And Grogan Named to ERB; Welfare Board Members

Stephen D. Hiltebrant of 357 Albany avenue, Dr. Charles D. Carter of 251 West Chestnut street, and Attorney William H. Grogan of 297 Clinton avenue, have been appointed members of the local emergency relief bureau to fill the vacancies caused by the resignations of Henry Forst, A. S. Staples and Nicholas Hogeboom. Mr. Hiltebrant and Dr. Carter have also been appointed members of the Board of Public Welfare to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of John Lang and the resignation of Jay Rittenbary.

Mr. Hiltebrant will serve as chairman of the reorganized ERB.

Although Mayor Hogeboom when seen today would make no comment, it is understood from sources close to the administration that the mayor had been unable to carry out his plan to consolidate the ERB with the Board of Public Welfare due to the fact that the term of Ernest A. Kelly does not expire until January 1, 1937. Mr. Kelly, who during the past year had served as president of the Welfare Board, was appointed to that board by Mayor Harry B. Walker on January 1, 1934, for a three year term.

Dr. Frederick Snyder is the fourth member of the local ERB. He did not file his resignation with the mayor, and will continue to serve on that board.

It will be recalled that Messrs. Forst, Staples and Hogeboom resigned over a year ago, but were prevailed upon to serve during 1935, but when the WPA took over the work program last November that had been carried on by the ERB they felt that as the board only had to administer home relief that it could be done by the local welfare board, and for that reason asked that their resignations be accepted.

Best British Diplomacy Used to Prevent Wreck Of World Naval Parley

Anthony Eden Takes Action To Attempt to Induce Japan to Be More Conciliatory in Private Meeting.

GASOLINE EXPORTS

Sharp November Increase in Sale of Fuel to Italy and Possessions is Reported.

By LLOYD LEHRBAS

London, Jan. 9.—Great Britain threw its best diplomacy into the breach today, in a final, desperate effort to save the international naval conference from wrecking on the rocks of disagreement.

Fearful that flat Japanese refusal to discuss anything but total tonnage limitation might cause an immediate collapse of the conference and end all naval limitations, Anthony Eden, Britain's new foreign secretary, stepped into the issue personally.

He decided to attempt to induce the Japanese to assume a more conciliatory attitude in a special private meeting late today at the foreign office.

The brilliant, persuasive Eden, working day and night on the critical European situation arising from the Italo-Ethiopian war, previously had been inactive in the naval discussions, although he is president of the conference.

The enlistment of his powers for the first time to lift the conference from its deadlock, was interpreted to mean the British frankly recognized the seriousness of the situation and were playing their ace.

While the Japanese made no threats to walk out of the conference, it was known they were negotiating under the strictest instructions from the Tokyo government.

Authoritative sources conceded a strong possibility that the Japanese would quit the parley or break up the negotiations in a manner as to make evident the futility of attempting to continue the conference.

Total Tonnage Question.
Japanese spokesmen declared they were interested first and last in the total tonnage question—under which they demand equality—and were not at all interested in other aspects of naval limitations to which the conference sought to turn.

Japanese correspondents with their delegation cabled to Tokyo a possibility that Admiral Osumi Nagano, chief Japanese delegate, and Matruzo Nagai might sail for home January 24 or 31.

The Japanese delegates had considered returning by way of the United States, it was explained, but deemed this inadvisable if the conference should be wrecked.

The United States, French and Italian delegations withheld comment, awaiting the results of the British-Japanese private conversations.

A final breakup might come tomorrow when the full five-power conference sessions are resumed, unless authoritative naval sources said, until the British persuaded the Japanese to make an eleventh-hour retreat from their demands for equality.

Before the two-power conference, called for 4:15 p. m. (11:15 a. m. EST) Admiral Nagano insisted the equality issue must be disposed of before any other question was undertaken.

Gasoline Exports
Washington, Jan. 9 (AP)—Sharp increases in American gasoline exports to Italy and her African possessions during November were revealed today by the Bureau of Mines.

Its report, which centered attention on administration efforts to hold down exports to both Italy and Ethiopia, listed November exports at 188,000 barrels.

Of this 72,234 barrels were consigned to Italy and the remainder went to her African possessions, now serving as bases for the armies invading Ethiopia.

November shipments to Italian Africa of 109,744 barrels in bulk, compared with 23,714 barrels during October. No gasoline was shipped to Italy proper during October.

Exports of crude petroleum, not so readily available for driving Italian tanks and airplanes, declined, however, during November, the bureau disclosed. The November total was 216,355 barrels, a decline of 100,519 from the October figure.

Exports of fuel oil increased from 22,222 barrels in October to 24,211 in November.

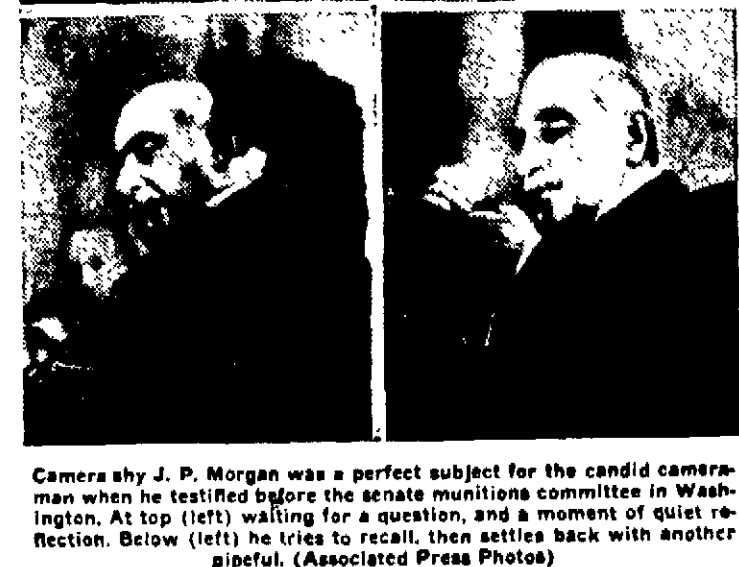

The bureau's report came after President Roosevelt's address attacking "autocracies" abroad had been interpreted in some foreign capitals as possibly promising steps to cut off the vital oil supply to Italy.

To date, the state department has issued a policy calling for only "essential exports" to both belligerents with the exception of weapons, most of which is forbidden under the neutrality act.

Hoffman Doubts That Pardon Court Will Let Bruno Appear, Jan. 11

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 9 (AP)—Gov. Harold G. Hoffman expressed doubt today that the Court of Pardons would grant Bruno Richard Hauptmann's request for a personal hearing when it considers his mercy plea on Saturday.

Never has a condemned man appeared before the court to ask clemency.

Hoffman did not disclose his own opinion of what should be done with the request but said he would confer with Chancellor Luther A. Campbell, the state's highest judicial officer, also a member of the court.

"I would like an opportunity to appear before the honorable board of pardons when they consider my case, and be given a chance to answer all questions the court may care to ask me," wrote Hauptmann, convicted slayer of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby.

His message was taken to the governor yesterday by C. Lloyd Fisher of defense counsel.

Hoffman said he would announce the court's decision place tomorrow. If the governor selects the state prison, it would indicate strongly that Hauptmann will be heard.

Otherwise, Attorney General David T. Wilentz, his aides, and Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police, and defense counsel were expected to be the only persons admitted to the hearing.

Meanwhile, the governor disclosed that certain documents relating to the case are en route to America on the German liner Europa, due in New York tomorrow.

The governor said he had not asked for the documents. The opinion prevailed that Hauptmann's lawyers were instrumental in having them sent to this country.

Fisher declined to comment on the purported documentary evidence, but it was understood it involved the late Isador Fisch, Hauptmann's business partner.

Advocates Expect Some Urge For Amendments, But Factions Are Quiet

Long Five-Hour Debate Begins When Chairman O'Connor Calls Up Right-of-Way Resolution for Veterans' Measure.

NO DEFINITE PLAN

Bill Offers No Specific Way for Raising Money; Would Provide 3 Per cent Interest.

Washington, Jan. 9 (AP)—A new cash payment bonus bill rode today onto the House floor amid the acclaim of supporters who predicted passage tomorrow by a huge majority vote.

A smooth legislative path apparently lay ahead. Once-hostile House factions were in agreement behind the measure. It had the united support of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and disabled American veterans.

While bonus advocates said they expected a flurry of amendments to be passed at the legislation, they forecast passage with all essential details left unaltered.

The bill would declare the veterans' adjusted service certificates to be "immediately payable." To those desiring not to cash them now, however, it would offer 3 per cent interest on them until January 1, 1945.

A long five-hour general debate began when Chairman O'Connor (D-NY) of the rules committee called up the resolution giving the bonus a right of way.

As House debate began complete silence was wrapped about a Senate conference on the question in the office of Democratic Leader Robinson.

It was attended by Robinson, Senator Harrison (D-Miss) chairman of the finance committee that handles bonus legislation, Byrnes (D-Sc) co-author with Senator Stewer (R-Ore) of a less liberal bonus bill than that in the House, and veteran organization leaders.

"There can be no publicity about this now," said Robinson afterwards.

Size of Majority
A vote was set for tomorrow. Bonus proponents said they were concerned only over the size of the majority which would send the legislation to the Senate.

With House factions and veterans' organizations massed behind a compromise measure, bonus leaders said they looked for a battle far short of previous ones.

Backed unanimously by the influential ways and means committee, the measure was due on the floor shortly after noon. The Democratic leadership temporarily brushed aside the independent office appropriation bill to make room for the Vinson-Patman-McCormack bill authorizing immediate cash payment.

The measure offers no definite plan for raising the money.

It would provide 3 per cent interest until 1945 for veterans refraining from cashing their adjusted service certificates at once, and can call all interest still due on loans on the certificates.

There were some prospects of a controversy on the floor over a decision of the ways and means committee to eliminate from the bill a provision for refunding interest on loans.

Two members of the rules committee, which yesterday granted a rule under which the legislation will be considered, argued that the committee's action was unfair. Representatives Cox (D-Ga.) and Lehigh (R-N.J.) challenged it on grounds that it penalizes veterans who have lived up to their obligations and gives an extra bounty to those who did not.

The expectation of the House leadership was that debate would be concluded before nightfall and amendments and the vote on passage disposed of tomorrow.

Drive Against Crime
Albany, N. Y., Jan. 9 (AP)—Close on the heels of Governor Herbert H. Lehman's plea for more teeth in New York state's anti-crime statute, shrewd New York state and Pennsylvania laid plans today for a co-operative drive against crime, particularly in the rural sections. The program will be advanced at a conference in New York city next Sunday and Monday, attended by officers and executive committee members of the Sheriffs' Association of the two states. Several other states, including Michigan, may participate. Sheriff Richard J. Lewis of Albany, president of the New York association, said.

Mouse in Match Box Gives Jailers' Jitters To Young Vredenburg

Frank Buck has nothing to do with the inmates of the Ulster County Jail, even though Buck might go in for somewhat bigger game. A night or two ago one of the men in the jail discovered that there was a mouse playing about the jail and he set about to capture the animal alive. After repeated attempts, he finally was able to capture the little fellow and then he was at a loss to know what to do with it. Attempts at training it for a movie contract failed so the mouse was given in charge to the night men. Night Jailor Lyman Elsworth and Assistant Charles McCullough decided that the mouse should become the property of the day shift so they procured a match box and put the new pet in the box. Throughout the night they were kept on the job preventing an escape from the box and just before dawn fed the animal a hearty breakfast after which the mouse apparently fell asleep.

Next morning when Assistant Day Jailor Keates Young came on duty he saw the match box but paid little attention until apparently the box became alive. There suddenly issued from the box the sound of gnawing and then the box began to do tricks and move about. Keates who is used to the wild animal life of Milton decided that there was something alive in the box but refused to open it.

Later it was definitely decided that a joke was in order and that someone had put a mouse in the box. But it remained for Jailor Clayton Vredenburg to inspect the box. One of the day men told him it was a box left by some visitor to be given to a prisoner and the shrewd jailer determined that no one would get any article in jail until it had been duly searched. With Keates and Art Brown both keeping close watch on the wary jailer the package was duly opened by Mr. Vredenburg. The question which is now being debated by the boys in the court house is which jumped the higher, the mouse or the jailer when out-popped Mr. Mouse.

At least the boys know that Clayton can take a joke and appreciate it even though it is one on himself.

Byron Purdy Gets 180 Days in Jail

Wednesday afternoon the sheriff's office received a hurry call from Zena and Jailer Clayton W. Vredenburg and Assistant Night Jailer Charles McCullough went to Zena, town of Woodstock, where they found a brawl in progress. Byron Purdy was arrested on a charge of assault, third degree, and he was arraigned before Justice Daniel Lynch charged with creating a disturbance and engaging in a fight at the Purdy place.

When Purdy entered a plea of guilty to the charge, stating that he desired to plead immediately, he was given 180 days in jail. Purdy had been involved in similar difficulties before and had been warned that any recurrence would result in disaster for him. This was the first case which has come before Justice Lynch since he assumed office on January 1.

Purdy was brought to the county jail to begin his term.

Century Plant Believed to Be Oldest Ice House

The maquer or century plant is used in making ice at Durango City, Mexico, and is said to be the only icehouse of the kind in the world, notes a writer in the Indianapolis News.

When the century plant is about eight years old the leaves, from which the pulp has been taken, are spread out on straw in the plaza, in the public gardens and other open spaces, with the concave sides of the leaves uppermost. Then about two quarts of water is poured into each leaf and while freezing is unknown in the city, under any other natural conditions, the water freezes in the maquer leaves and in the morning hundreds of chunks of ice are gathered and put in adobe ice holders, each about 20 feet deep and 25 feet square. The supply amounts to about 100,000 tons.

Ice is used until the middle of July or the first of August and is large enough to be a commercial factor in the ice market of the region of more than 30,000 persons.

Durango City is about 6,000 feet above sea level and at this altitude there is rapid cooling, after evaporation, to which the water is exposed by the broad, shallow surface of the leaves. This is believed to be the scientific explanation of the odd ice plant. There is a legend that the method was learned by the Spaniards from a priest, who also was a scientist.

The sap, or "chicle," as it is called, looks like milk when it first enters the jar, but on exposure the color changes to a dull yellow, and thickens until it is almost like sirup.

The gum is taken out of the jars and boiled down in huge pots, after which it is kneaded and excess moisture is squeezed out. It is then molded into large leaves, cooled, and wrapped in canvas for exportation to the chewing gum factory.

In the factory it is mixed and boiled in copper vats in the hardest and best, and sugar is added with flavoring essences.

Many Miles of Chewing Gum Consumed Annually

Over 100,000 miles of chewing gum are sold every year, the major portion being consumed in the United States, states the Montreal Herald.

Chewing gum in its raw state is the juice of a tree known as the sapote which grows in various parts of Central America.

The sapote is a graceful tree, with a straight trunk some forty feet high. It is tapped very much after the manner of a rubber tree, spiral cuts being made in the bark, through which the juice runs down the trunk to jars placed at the foot.

ONCE BOSSAD ADOLF HITLER

Once when this Madison, Wis., tailor spoke, Adolf Hitler, of Germany stepped lively. He's Peter Vust and his story is that for eight weeks during the World War he was in charge of a small detail of Bavarian infantrymen, of which Oer Fuehrer was a member. However, he wouldn't swap jobs with Hitler now. (Associated Press Photo)

Home Institute TIPS ON SMART SEWING

BOUND BUTTONHOLES DRESSY, EASILY MADE

Smart bound buttonholes and a row of nifty new buttons—what more do you need to give an air of individuality to that tailored frock?

They're so much less trouble to make than almost any other kind of trimming. You can even have them all down the front of a dress, and at the wrist, and still get them done before you know it.

First you mark your buttonholes where you want them, spacing them evenly by measuring with a ruler or tape measure. Then run a bast- ing thread exactly where the slash is to be made (diagram 1).

Cut scraps of your cloth into convenient squares, allowing plenty of cloth, as shown in the sketch. Use the scraps on the bias. If your buttonholes come on the straight, as they usually do.

Put the scrap right side down on the right side of the cloth, centering it over the spot where the buttonhole is to be cut. Baste in place, and then stitch evenly and exactly around the slash, about an eighth of an inch on each side of it, to form an oblong of stitching, as shown in the diagram 2.

If you make the buttonhole where there is a facing, as down the front edge of the dress, stitch through only the scrap of cloth and one thickness of the material. Then cut along the line where the buttonhole is to open, cut each corner on a diagonal, as shown in diagram 2, and pull the cloth through the hole.

Sew neatly on the wrong side, adjusting the little box pleats that form at each corner, diagram 3. Slash the facing where the buttonhole comes (as in diagram 4), and turn under the edge of the slash along the edge of the wrong side of the buttonhole (B).

With step by step instructions like these, sewing becomes a pleasant pastime, with no worries. And how smart your clothes look, with these new personal touches.

Just the help you want, clear, in each step illustrated, is given in our 40-page Home Institute booklet, "Do It Thus—And Sew." It takes all the mystery out of seams, hems, plackets, pleats, darts, and teaches you all the little tricks that keep your garments from looking home made.

Judge Dismisses Van Keuren Suit

The complaint of W. W. Van Keuren against Tom Larson, an appeal from city court, was dismissed in county court Wednesday afternoon on motion of Elmore H. Nathan who appeared for the defendant Larson. Mr. Nathan moved to dismiss the complaint, before a jury had been taken, on the grounds that under the law the court had no jurisdiction since the amount involved was but $25 and under the law an appeal to county court could be taken only where the amount involved was in excess of $100. Judge Traver dismissed the complaint.

When Mr. Nathan made his motion to dismiss the complaint, the plaintiff, Mr. Van Keuren, who appeared in person, remarked to the court, "If the court has no jurisdiction how is a man to have his rights? I've had cases like this before."

Judge Traver explained that only where the sum exceeded $100 was an appeal permitted from justice's court to county court.

"I am deciding the matter according to law," said Judge Traver. "I did not make the law, the legislature did and it is evident that the legislature did not desire to burden the county court with this type of action," concluded Judge Traver.

"Can the judge issue a warrant for perjury?" asked Mr. Van Keuren.

"Yes, if you file an information?" replied Judge Traver.

"I will," replied Mr. Van Keuren. "I'll get a warrant," said Plaintiff Van Keuren.

Judge Traver informed Mr. Van Keuren that a warrant could be procured from any justice and that it was not necessary for the county judge to issue the warrant.

"Well, I'll come to you first," replied Mr. Van Keuren.

Judge Traver then directed the dismissal of the complaint and discharged the jurors until Thursday morning, explaining that he was sorry the jurors had been brought back only to find no work to do.

He told the jurors that he had no discretion in the matter when the motion was made as the motion was in accordance with the law as passed by the legislature.

The case was first moved for trial at the morning session but defendant was not in court. Judge Traver adjourned the matter for an hour to give the defendant time to appear in court. When court re-convened Maurice Baker appeared for the defendant and asked for an adjournment until 3 o'clock. This was granted. At the afternoon session Mr. Nathan had succeeded to the case and moved for a dismissal on the part of defendant.

Dairymen will give a good deal of attention to Bang's disease this winter at many meetings throughout the state, says Professor C. G. Bradt of the New York state college of agriculture. The meetings have been arranged by county farm bureaus at the request of dairymen for more information concerning the disease, prevention and control of this disease. At present they are being scheduled in the following counties: Broome, Cattaraugus, Cayuga, Essex, Franklin, Genesee, Greene, Herkimer, Ontario, Saratoga, Schoharie, St. Lawrence, Tioga, Ulster and Wayne.

Speaking of ODD JOBS-

Bubble Blower
Edward Smith doesn't blow bubbles, but he scoops them out of a fountain every day. He works at the central fountain in Rockefeller Center, New York city. Every hour, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. rain or shine, he dips out the soap-like foam with a wire sieve attached to a long pole. Perhaps the great golden statue of Prometheus is so perplexed by his job that he is the only visitor. Smith says the reason he dips the bubbles is that they are thought to detract from the beauty of the pool. The cause of the bubbles is something of a mystery, but engineers finally have decided they come from a mixture of ammonia gas and chlorine water. Smith was in the construction business before he became a bubble blower. He says the most common question asked him is, "Ever are they biting so-ber?"

How Far Behind?
The winter winds that blow
Faint the taint of ice and snow;
Behind them, on the wing,
Comes the gentle breath of spring.

Socialist Father—What do you mean by playing truant? What makes you play away from school?
Son—Class hatred, father.

The well bred man always conceals how much he thinks of himself and how little he thinks of others.

Purchaser—I'd like to get a pair of silk stockings for my wife?
Clerk—Sheer?
Purchaser—No, I left her at home.

Many men who never worry about the payment of their grocery bills are concerned about the payment of the national debt. And many men who repudiate their honest debts are distressed at the thought that possibly the government might repudiate its obligations.

Perchival—That girl I was telling you about gave me an awful dig last night.

Elmer—How was that?
Perchival—I showed her an old photograph taken when I was a little boy, with my father holding me on his knee—and she asked me who the ventriloquist was.

Thought For Today: Members of the younger generation are alike in many respects.

Man (in the hope of getting a good tip)—Do you think stocks will go up or down?

Industrial Magnate—Yes, I am sure they will. They never stand still for very long and they can't go sideways.

A woman sits down and waits for temptation, while a man usually meets it half way.

Clerk—I cannot live on my salary, sir.
Boss—Then I'll try to be patient, and wait instead of firing you.

The only time some folks will admit they are mistaken, is when they are mistaken for somebody else.

Diamonds
"Diamonds are only chunks of coal that stuck to their jobs, you see; if they'd pestered out, as most of us do, where would the diamond be?"

It isn't the fact of making a start, it's the sticking that wins the day.

It's the fellow who knows not the meaning of fall, but hammers and hammers away.

Whenever you think you've come to the end, and you're beaten as bad as bad can be, Remember that diamonds are chunks of coal that stuck to their jobs, you see!

Buyer—That land you sold me is no good. You said I could grow nuts on it.

Seller—Oh no, I didn't say that. I said you could grow nuts on it!

A philosopher was overheard the other day to say: "The duty of every man and woman is to serve other people," which sounds to us like a job in a restaurant.

Angry Father—What do you mean by bringing my daughter home from a dance at 6 o'clock in the morning?
Young Man—I had to be at my work at 7.

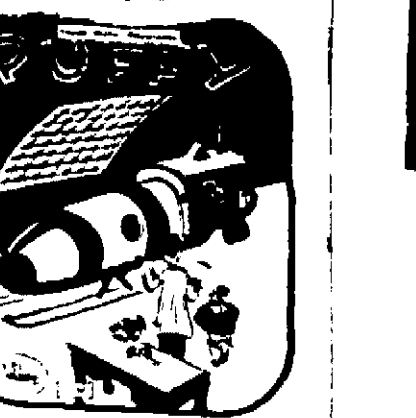

The Federal Radio Commission may have improved the situation to some extent, but frequently there are so many stations trying to broadcast at one time they actually interfere with the static.

The kind of patience that causes the trousers to grow shiny has no reward.

Along the front lines of medical service the ambulance plays an increasingly important role. Frequently providing the quickest and safest means of transporting the sick or injured to hospitals where they can be cared for best, ambulances are instrumental in saving many lives and in reducing human suffering.

Paris Mac, Flea Market
In addition to its bird market, horse market, diamond market and dog market, Paris has several flea markets. These were so named because their main sales were originally old clothes and rugs, but now are jumble sales. A tour of the markets is still considered one of the best of that is in Paris.

It's strange that anything he's ever seen.

TENSE MOMENT IN WAR LOANS INVESTIGATION

POLITICS at Random

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

SEVERAL important probabilities are presented by the tumbling events which have greeted the infant 1936 at Washington:

The AAA decision brings home to the Democrats, much more forcibly than anything heretofore, the necessity for deciding whether to favor a constitutional amendment to enlarge federal powers.

It likewise forecasts for Republican leaders and candidates a season of severe ordeals as the various party groups seek to unite on some substitute plan for farm relief.

The President's annual message makes relations between the White House and organized business still more difficult—a fact which is sure to be reflected in some degree during the session of congress.

The new budget, encountering immediately the prospect of soldier bonus payment and invalidation of the processing tax, has been thrown into a state of confusion which puts even the details of government finances into the center of the political campaign.

Combined, these various circumstances indicate a long and acrimonious congressional session, in place of the short, harmonious one hoped for by the administration. They complicate almost beyond description a political situation which already was tangled and uncertain.

Neither Party Will Rest
THE trouble and turmoil arising from the supreme court's rejection of the Democratic administration solely.

When NRA died, those who had been sacrificing to keep it alive rejoiced, and it passed into history. The case of AAA is far different. Its pulling power was not sacrifice, but tangible benefits in the form of checks from Washington. Neither party will rest until it has offered some substitute.

Months of wrangling in congress, much agitated flying of trial balloons by candidates, and bitter division in the national political conventions all appear inevitable.

For the Democrats, long-range discussion of the subject seems certain to center around the question of a constitutional amendment.

It is not a question on which Mr. Roosevelt is expected to commit himself hastily, but it is one on which his friends believe he must speak plainly, soon or late.

The need for a plausible Republican farm plank has been a haunting presence in the background of Republican conferences for months. Now it is leaning over the shoulders of party planners and presidential aspirants, demanding attention urgently.

Master Of Maneuver
SHOULD the Democrats advocate an amendment, it is assumed that by its very terms it would give the federal government broader powers over industry as well as agriculture.

That might mean a break far more real than the present one between Mr. Roosevelt and organized business. It might determine the whole character of the campaign.

Although it was easy, listening to the President's annual message, to conclude that he had turned to the "left" finally, irrevocably and with-out restraint, some of the wisest political philosophers found room for doubt.

They recalled that in politics, as in war, there are two kinds of strategy. One general prefers to stand on a given line and fight, another relies on the art of maneuver. Up to now, Mr. Roosevelt has been a recognized master of maneuver, seeming to turn left today, and right tomorrow.

Besides, neither the annual message nor the budget message contained proposals for new legislation repugnant to business. The security markets held firm, perhaps on the theory that "sticks and stones will break my bones, but words will never harm me."

It is what Mr. Roosevelt does, more than what he says, which will hold the interest of the country in the present situation; and the determining question may easily be what he does about a constitutional amendment.

Crimi Dress Factory Reopens at Highland

Highland, Jan. 9.—The committee of John F. Wadlin and Walter R. Seaman made their report of raising funds to bring the S. Crimi dress factory to Highland in the following letter to the president of the Lions Club: Dr. Victor P. Salvatore: "Dear President Vic: The committee consisting of Walter R. "First National Bank, $25; Whit-taker's store, $25; Enlist Hardware store, $5; Lorin S. Callahan, $10; Henry Erichsen, $2; J. P. Whitley, $25; Maynard's Market, $25; Michael Ayvalotis, $5; Charles Marino, $2; Ben Crimi, $2; Sweet Shoppe, $2; Phillips Shoe Store, $2; Patay Esposito, $2; Dr. V. P. A total of $162.

"This sum of money has been turned over to James W. Feeter, who entered into a lease with the S. Crimi Dress Factory and applied the above sum on account of rent for the first six months, and has made the difference up himself. So that with our help and Mr. Feeter's donation the dress company has received its quarters in the Feeter building without paying any rent for the first six months.

"It gives us pleasure to report that Mr. Crimi is very much pleased with our cooperation and assistance. Very truly yours, John F. Wadlin." The Crimi shop opened last week with a small number making up sample dresses and by next week Mr. Crimi expects to have a force of thirty employees working on dresses. He has received many applications for work in the factory.

The Gaelic Word "Baile"
The Gaelic word "Baile" (pronounced "Bally"), meaning a town, was formerly used to denote any group of dwellings or settlements larger than a mere village and the name of the local chief was added, says Pearson's Weekly. Thus we have Ballymartin, Ballyhannon, etc. Where there was no local lord or chief of sufficient importance to be thus honored, the town was distinguished by some peculiarity of the surrounding neighborhood, e.g., Bally-na-hinch—or Ballyhinch—"the town-of-the-islands."

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, Jan. 9 (AP).—Realizing gave the stock market a distinctly spotty appearance today, although a few groups improved in quiet trading.

Lead, non-ferrous metal manufacturing and mining, gold, oil and farm shares all displayed a firm tone, as did a number of specialties.

Utilities and some of the "blue-chip"

industrials met considerable profit-taking.

A rise in certain copper product prices appeared to help the metals.

Foreign exchanges gained sharply against the dollar. Bonds were irregular, with U. S. governments improved. Grain was narrow and indifferent. Cotton prices softened.

Oils appeared to be still in the process of discounting the crude oil price increase announced yesterday, and Wall Street talk of further firm-ing in the price structure later.

One important business indicator got away to a fast start for the first week of the new year, as Dun &

Bradstreet reported bank clearings in 22 leading cities the best since

December 17, 1931, with the excep-

Negligence Action
In County Court

In county court this morning a negligence action, an appeal from Justice's court, was taken up for trial before Judge Traver and a jury. The action is brought by

Irving Funk of West Hurley against

George Schantz of Kingston and grows out of an accident which took place on October 11, 1932, near the

Fred Will place on the Plank road.

Mr. Schantz brings a counter claim against Funk.

In the evening of October 11,

1932, Mr. Schantz and Mr. Funk were proceeding over the Plank road toward Stony Hollow. Mr.

Schantz was going to the Will farm.

The accident took place at the entrance to the lane. Funk claims that he approached the place and saw a car on the right of the road.

He sounded his horn and proceeded and that when he was close to the car it suddenly swerved across the road and he turned left to avoid it but the cars came together in the lane. He claims that Schantz turned suddenly from the right of the road to the left to go into the lane. Mr.

Funk seeks damages for the repairs to his car.

Mr. Schantz on the other hand claims that he was turning into the lane when the Funk car came very fast around the curve and unable to

Bankhead Proposes
Currency Expansion
To Boost Farm Prices

Washington, Jan. 9 (AP).—Currency

expansion was projected by Senator

Bankhead (D-Ala.) as a means of boosting farm prices today as President Roosevelt conferred with legal, financial and agricultural aides on problems presented by AAA's death.

Bankhead, who assailed the Supreme Court, AAA decision as "astounding," told the Senate the administration has "another way" of getting "a fair price" for farmers.

"If it becomes necessary," he said,

"the President can protect farm prices by increasing the currency."

"He has the power and I think he should exercise it to issue currency against all the silver owned by the government and against the gold

now lying sterile in the treasury."

Before going to the White House meeting, Attorney General Cummings told newsmen "no plan has been accepted yet," adding:

"There have been various suggestions, quite a large number in fact.

They are all under discussion and analysis by experts."

Bankhead also suggested passing a separate bill re-levying the processing tax as a general revenue measure and appropriating out of the general fund of the treasury a suitable amount to be placed at the disposal of the secretary of agriculture.

New Cadillac, La Salle Models Now on Display By Stuyvesant Garage

Models of the new 1936 Cadillac and LaSalle line of motor cars are on display at the show rooms of the Stuyvesant Garage, Clinton avenue, where the proprietors of the Stuyvesant Garage, A. H. and L. E. Chambers, invite the motoring public to inspect this new offering. Announcement that the Messrs. Chambers have taken over the distribution of Cadillac and LaSalle for Ulster, Greene and Delaware counties, as direct factory distributors has just been made. They will continue to handle Oldsmobile, the lower priced General Motors product, which they have been selling for the past several years.

For the past 12 years the Stuyvesant Garage has been agent for Packard cars in conjunction with the Oldsmobile.

The addition of the Cadillac and LaSalle line to the Oldsmobile line gives a very complete price range which commences at the low price field and carries up into the high price field with the Cadillac "50" V-16 selling at $8,000 for the larger 15-16 inch wheelbase seven-passenger sedan.

Models of Cadillac and LaSalle are now on their show room floor for the inspection of the public.

For 1936 the Cadillac Motor Car Company, a division of General Motors, presents a price range from the LaSalle 50 in a touring sedan five passenger model at $1,455 complete equipped with all accessories including a hot water heater, up-ward.

The price in the delivery price in Kingston with full equipment. This car is a 120-inch wheelbase job and the entire line comes in a choice of 9 body colors and a choice of eight upholstery cloths.

Next in line of price is the new 1936 Cadillac "60" which is a V-8 type motor on a 121 inch wheelbase. The touring sedan model for five passengers delivers fully equipped in Kingston for $1,935.

The Cadillac "70" and "75" comes in two wheelbases. The five passenger sedan which delivers for $2,735, fully equipped, comes on a 131 inch wheelbase and the seven passenger model on a 138 inch wheelbase and sells for $3,105.

In addition there is the V-8 and V-16, twelve in all "equipped" on the same wheelbase as the "70" and "75," selling for $3,455 and $3,820 delivered for the touring sedan models and the largest car of the line is the "90" V-16 which is a 16 cylinder seven passenger model which sells upwards to $8,000 delivered.

The LaSalle "36-50" series is Cadillac precision built with an 8-cylinder in line motor rated at 105 horsepower. The engine is mounted in rubber at three points and is said to be extremely economical in operation. A down-draft carburetor with "equalized" manifolds, air cleaner, intake silencer and a re-designed fuel pump contribute to this economy.

In addition all Cadillac built cars have a new triple-range manual and electric choke and automatic heat control. A new heavy duty generator which maintains a charging rate even with lights and heater and radio on gives plenty of power for cold weather starting. Gears are quiet synch-mesh type. Independent long knee-action front wheels and long easy springs add to the road ability of the cars. All models are equipped with the Fisher bodies and no-draft ventilation.

The Cadillacs are all "V" type powered with the "60," a 125 horsepower motor. All models are designed for modern driving with unusual pick-up and speed and super-hydraulic brakes for quick stopping. Numerous new mechanical refinements and improvements which have been incorporated in the 1936 models.

NEW GYPSY CLASS COMES INTO BEING 250,000 Quit Paying Rent to Live in Their Autos.

New York.—A new gypsy class is coming into being in the United States and a survey just completed shows that already no less than 250,000 persons have stopped paying rents anywhere to live on wheels all the year round, the Woman's Home Companion reveals. By summer time it is believed 500,000 will have quit their homes to live America from house cars and trailers.

"Today, 22 companies, chiefly in Ohio and Michigan, are busy manufacturing all sorts of models of motor vans," Theodore Pratt, the magazine's investigator of this new social trend states. "There can be no doubt that the growing appeal of outdoor life, the construction of great camps, the steadily expanding network of fine roads, are temporarily or permanently converting all sorts of people into motor gypsies."

To take care of these modern American nomads "trailer-cities" have been and are being erected on real estate developments. Other units are municipally owned, and there is a federal chain of camps for both trailer and other motor tourists set out chiefly in the great parks.

Largest trailer camp in the United States, according to this authority, is at Sarasota, Fla. Covering 31 acres of ground, this one elaborate plant at one time last winter sheltered over 2,000 such tourists.

Eskimo Children Like Their Own Tongue Best

New York.—If anyone has any good ideas how to get Eskimo children to speak English, E. B. Dell, teacher at Hooper Bay, Alaska, would like to have them.

Dell appealed to the teachers college of Columbia university for advice in teaching Eskimos. For eight years he has attempted in vain to teach Eskimo children the English language.

Refusal to use English makes the children backward, Dell said in his appeal. It isn't because they're stubborn, he explained, but because they are so bashful and shy that they seldom try to use the new words.

Dell, field service worker for the United States Department of Interior office of Indian affairs, believes if he could get the children to use what English they know their vocabulary would soon increase.

Teachers college will arrange for children in schools here to correspond with the Eskimo pupils, but that isn't going to help much because there's no mail service three times a day in Hooper Bay.

He Finally Found Shoes, Size 16, to Fit His Feet

Augusta, Maine.—The largest pair of shoes—also 16—ever made in Maine was presented by a shoe company to Willie Jackson, seventeen-year-old negro, who has the largest feet of any man employed on the Passamaquoddy tidal power project.

For weeks Willie had been crowding his feet into shoes which were at least three sizes too small for him, with the result that the top tip had to be cut away and his toes encased in burlap.

"Boss," Willie told Capt. Edward B. Blodgett, "this is the first time I've been comfortable in years. Thank you, Cap'n and thanks, everybody."

One in Each 1,000 Is a Policeman in America

Washington, D. C.—Approximately one policeman to every 1,000 inhabitants is the average in most cities over 100,000 population, the federal bureau of investigation reports.

In many large cities the average is less than one policeman and in others it ranges up to as high as three policemen per 1,000 persons, the bureau says. The statistics were compiled upon reports from the police departments of 70 cities with a population totaling nearly 20,000,000.

Crimes of murder, robbery, and auto theft have declined steadily over the last six months, the bureau revealed.

Nazi Sterilization Law Includes All Foreigners

Berlin.—Foreigners residing in Germany are subject to the German sterilization laws, the hereditary health court, in agreement with the ministry of justice, ruled.

The laws provide for the sterilization of the hopelessly ill or habitually criminal.

Foreigners may escape their provisions by leaving Germany.

Comprehensive forms on which doctors must file scores of intimate details of the private lives of German couples before they can marry were published.

Spenders Pay Cost of Warning Signs

Louisville, Ky.—Traffic law offenders are to pay for a new set of warning signs on Louisville streets, and a plate hanging on the sign will give the offender proper credit.

Flows will pay for the signs and on each sign will be appended some thing like this: "John Spender paid for this sign. He was fined for running through a red light at this corner."

When a boulevard boys caused a traffic jam, it was almost sure that it was done, truthfully labeled, and in a full-length coat. Most of the 700-odd cases of traffic jammed in the United States this season can be put up under Federal supervision, says the Food and Drug Administration.

Musical Society Meeting Wednesday

Wednesday, January 8, the Musical Society of Kingston met at the home of Mrs. A. Noble Graham, 21 Janet street. Miss Helen M. Turner had prepared a very interesting and comprehensive study of "American Women Composers". Her program included composers of all different ages, from the oldest of American women composers down to the most modern. She pointed out the differences in style, noting the modernistic trend in the younger composers. Her descriptions made each personality vivid.

Probably the greatest genius of the group is Mrs. H. H. A. Beach, with whose compositions the program of the evening opened. Artistic perfection is combined with difficult elaborateness and her music is in decided contrast to the simple songs of the majority of her contemporary women composers.

The following program was presented:

Mrs. H. H. A. Beach—Vocal Solos: Ecstasy (violin obligato), Ah, Love But a Day; Mrs. Clarence Wolferstele, Mrs. Florence Cubberley, violin, Miss Helen Turner, piano, accompanist.

Halley's Comet So Named for English Astronomer

Halley's comet was so named for Edmund Halley, English astronomer, notes the Indianapolis News. He discovered that the orbits of the comets of 1531 and 1697 were similar to that of 1832, which he himself observed, and thereupon concluded they were the same. He predicted the comet's return about 1758, and called upon posterity to record and verify his prediction. It arrived at perihelion on March 12, 1759.

Investigation showed many references to the periodic appearance throughout the Christian era. In 1835 it returned, and was next expected in 1910. While yet some 200,000,000 miles distant, it was photographed on September 11, 1909, by Professor Wolf of Heidelberg. For months afterward, it was invisible to the eye; later it developed rapidly and was a spectacular object when it reached its greatest brilliance in May, 1910.

Fame of Ferdinand de Lesseps
November 19, 1859, saw the birth of Ferdinand de Lesseps at Versailles, says Pearson's London Weekly. He was educated for the diplomatic service, in which he was engaged for many years. In 1854 he produced a scheme for a canal across the Isthmus of Suez. He obtained a concession, a company was formed, and in 1860 the work began. Nine years later the canal was completed, and de Lesseps became honored and famous.

But in 1888 he undertook the construction of a Panama canal. From the beginning everything went wrong. The funds were grossly mismanaged while malaria and yellow fever killed off the workmen. In 1892 de Lesseps and the directors were brought to trial for betrayal of trust. De Lesseps was sentenced to five years' imprisonment, and though the sentence was soon quashed, he died, ruined and broken-hearted, on December 7, 1894.

Gold Discovery in Alaska
Gold was first discovered in Alaska in 1902 in the gravel of Koonak river by P. P. Doroshin, a Russian mining engineer, who was then making an examination of the general resources of the district for the Russian-American company. In 1903 and 1904 Doroshin, with a working force of 14 men, prospected the gravel of two streams covering Koonak river between Koonak and Stikine lakes and those of a third stream tributary to the latter lake. Gold was found nearly everywhere in the gravel examined, but not in commercial quantities.

Business Girls' Supper Wednesday

Any one passing the Kingston Y. C. A. Wednesday evening would have been very sure that the New Year was receiving a hilarious reception, for surely laughter must have made music that could have been heard on the street. The occasion of all the merriment was the program put on by a group of the Business Girls, themselves.

Directly after the excellent supper, Miss Bertha Waterman, president of the club, extended a sincere New Year greeting to the girls present and to their guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fessenden, and asked Mrs. Reed to extend her New Year's greeting also. A quotation from Phillips Brooks, particularly pertinent to these very days and times, was the greeting chosen by Mrs. Reed.

Among the announcements made, of special interest to the club members, it was stated that the Rev. Thorne Legg, who will be the guest speaker and leader of a debate at the supper on the evening of February 5, asked that those to participate in the debate and as many others as could read the book, "The Growth of Fascism; It Can't Happen Here," before the debate.

Then came the fun! Miss Waterman introduced "Major Bowlegs" and his "Professional Night". The only pity was that the real major was not present, for the program was as good as any of his and Miss Ruth Bell's interpretation of "The Major" was most realistic.

There were really lovely songs by "Sally Brown" who was very shy; amusing tap dancing; stunts by "The California Blossoms" who did a "goal" song; piano numbers by the "Ethiopian Twins"; a realistic monologue by Sibellus Simpkins in costume, a remarkably good rhythm band with Miss Margaret Howe conducting. All of which could be fully appreciated only by those who were present. Incidentally there must be a great many business and professional girls in Kingston who are missing no end of fun and good times by failing to belong to the Business Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A.

After the shouts of laughter had subsided, because the audience could not very well laugh any more just then, "Major Bowlegs" announced the great big surprise of the evening, a Performance of Magic by E. E. Fessenden, one of the trustees of the Y. W. C. A.

That just "capped the climax" for Mr. Fessenden is a very Houdini in his magical performance and was ably—how ably!—supported by some of the professional talent of earlier part of the program. Again gales of laughter were heard by the passersby and all too soon the magical moments had passed and the program closed.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Wesley Rose Co. will hold a card party in the central fire station, East O'Reilly street, Friday evening, January 17, 8 P.M.

Liberty League Wheels Up Its Big Guns; Al Smith Expected To Fire Both Barrels

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

Washington (AP)—The American Liberty League, which from its headquarters almost within the shadows of the White House has been taking pot-shots at the "new deal" and Chief New Dealer, is now getting ready to fire its biggest gun.

Alfred E. Smith, scheduled as the headline speaker for the league's rally here on January 25, is expected to "let go with both barrels" at the administration of the man who in 1928 affectionately dubbed him The Happy Warrior.

Meanwhile, J. J. Shouse, president of the league and its most frequent spokesman, sends out blasts against the Roosevelt regime from the identical office he occupied when, as executive director of the Democratic national committee under National Chairman John J. Raskob, he raked the administration of Herbert Hoover.

Membership Large
The league conducts its intensive and far-reaching publicity campaign from the suite of offices on the tenth floor of the National Press building which formerly housed the Democratic committee. Shouse sits today at the same desk he had during the powerful anti-Hoover publicity drive of 1931-1932. Incidentally, the league's first publicity was rushed out on a mimeograph hastily borrowed from the Democratic committee.

The membership of the league is said to number more than 100,000, largely business men and lawyers. There are two classes of membership, regular and contributing. The regular embraces those who believe in the principles of the league and to this every American citizen is eligible without financial contribution. The contributing members embrace those who in addition are able and willing to give monetary help for the league's support.

The league defines its purpose as educational—"defense of the constitution and dissemination of information teaching the duty of government to encourage and protect individual and group initiative, to foster the right to work, earn, save and acquire property, and to preserve the ownership and lawful use of property when acquired."

Card Party.
The Girls' Friendly Society of Holy Cross will hold a public card party in the parish hall, Pine Grove avenue, Tuesday evening, January 28. Games will start at 8:30; refreshments.

Best thing we've read about this year: "Up to this time I have not kicks concerning 1936."

Below is the busy office of the American Liberty League at headquarters in Washington and above from left to right, three of its principals: J. J. Shouse, president and most frequent spokesman; Al Smith, expected to fire both barrels in an administration attack at the league rally January 25; and J. J. Raskob, one of the founders of the league and said to be its chief financial backer.

utterances of its spokesmen and of its releases to the press have been severely critical of the Roosevelt administration, the league commended the President on two occasions. One was his veto of the soldier's bonus and the other was his reported opposition to proposed legislation requiring adoption of the 30-hour work week in industry.

In the year and a half of its existence, the league has distributed 3,500,000 pamphlets on subjects ranging from "A Program for Congress" to a report on the constitutionality of the potato control act.

League officials say its activities have been the subject of 250,000 news stories and editorials.

In addition to the executive committee there are a national advisory committee and a national lawyers committee, the latter composed of prominent attorneys whose reports on the validity of "new deal" laws and proposed laws have stirred widespread and heated political controversy.

The league was organized in August, 1934, to "defend constitutional principles" and President Shouse says "it does not favor one political party as against another."

Du Pons Contribute
The league recently reported to congress that its receipts during 1935 totaled $483,175.46 and its expenditures $389,973.92, leaving a surplus of about $93,000. President Shouse's share was more than $64,000, his salary amounting to $36,750 and his travel and expense allowances being $18,000.

The du Pont family was the largest contributor, Irene du Pont, one of the founders of the league and a supporter of Al Smith in his 1925 campaign, being the No. 1 "financial angel" with a loan of $79,500.

As between Fascism and Communism. Americans want democracy.

Morgies Lose To Hebrews, 26-37 Before Crowd At Auditorium

Before the largest basketball crowd of the season, approximately 1,500, Frank Morgenweck's Citrus Service team failed to come through against the Philadelphia Hebrews, first half champions, at the Municipal Auditorium, Wednesday night. Final score of the game in favor of the Hebrews was 37-26.

After holding Ed Gottlieb's eagles to a 9-all tie in the first period, the Morgenweckers romped around like a bunch of schoolboys in the second and third periods, losing possession time after time, thus tossing to the winds an advantage they had handed to them when Moe Goldstein failed to appear.

Goldman is sick and could not make the trip from Philadelphia, leaving Red Wolfe to jump center against the gigantic Tiny Hearn, who got the tap repeatedly. But this advantage, which should have helped Kingston win the game, was cast aside by the Morgenweckers. They either let the SPHAS grab the leather at the tapoff or lost the ball by poor passing.

Morgenweck changed players several times, putting in Corky Stanton, who did not start last night, and Bill Flanagan, former Little Falls forward in the old State League, but this didn't help.

Kingston was away off on its shots, missing time after time, and some of the reserved seat customers were heard to remark that it wouldn't be a half bad idea for the Citrus Service boys to devote a little time to the practice of shooting fields.

Horse Meyer and Shimek led in dunks, having three apiece. Meyers and Kintzing were high scorers for Kingston with 17 points each. Shimek made 6.

Gil Fitch and Shiky Gottloffer showed the way in point collecting for the Philles. Fitch made 12 and Gottloffer 10. Gil registered six times from the field and Shiky four. Gottloffer didn't start last night, but entered the game early in the second period.

Kaselman Slumped
Cy Kaselman, playing against Frank Shimek, was held scoreless from the field, making only four points on fouls. Kaselman usually is one of the leading scorers for the Hebrews. Last night he started instead of being held in reserve. Cy generally sits on the bench until the SPHAS need a few points, then goes in to drop them in from all angles.

Last night's defeat made the Morgenweckers feel worse than any game they lost this year. It was their last of the American League first half and they wanted to win to prove they mean to go places in the second half.

The Jewels Next
Kingston's next game, their first of the second half, at home, will be played against the New York Jewels at the Auditorium next Wednesday night.

Meyers and Shimek put Kingston in front with a field apiece early in the first period. Hearn missed a foul. Then the Philles went on a spree that netted them 9 points. Kaselman converted, Fitch and Rosen tossed in fields, Rosen and Lautman made good on free throws and Lautman looped in one from scrimmage.

Kintzing tossed in a foul and deuce, the two-point being a spectacular shot under the basket on a pass from Meyers. Meyers tallied from scrimmage to tie the score at 8-all when Husta threw the leather to him under the basket.

Score Tied Again
Fitch made a field for the SPHAS as soon as the second period opened. Kintzing pushed one in for Kingston, knotting the tally again 12-12. Shiky Gottloffer replaced Lautman. Kaselman scored from the free throw stripe and Gottloffer did likewise. Referee Sinnott had to call time because of his own injury. Tiny Hearn tapped the ball in for Kingston as the teams scrimmaged under the basket, tying the score again at 13-13.

Fitch tried one of his long ones and made it. Kaselman shot a foul, then went out and Lautman entered the game again. He scored a two-point and Gottloffer a foul, putting the Hebrews ahead 19-13 at the end of the second period.

Hebrews' Spurt
Meyers went in for Shimek at the beginning of the third period and pushed one in for Kingston raising the locals' total to 15. Then the Hebrews cut loose to score four fields in a row. Gottloffer made two, and Fitch the other two, boosting the Philles' score to 27. Meyers tossed in a foul for the Citrus Service cars and then Gottloffer put in two more of the half-raising variety except the last one which he pushed in from under the basket without any opposition.

Kintzing made a foul for Kingston, then Rosen converted and Fitch pumped one in for the Morgenweckers. Kintzing shot a foul and Stanton and Shimek put in fields making the Kingston score 24 with two minutes left to play. Shimek made another two pointer for the Ollers 26 but Kaselman scored a foul and Rosen a field and the game ended 37-26 in favor of the Hebrews.

In the game at White Eagle Hall Friday night the Home Leaders will take on the Fuller Clermonts.

The Clermonts will play White Myers and Al Blackwell, forwards; Hank Krom, center; Al Short and Don Boyce, guards. They have won three out of four games played so far, defeating the Kendalls, DuPonts and Hangers and losing to the Middletown Y. M. C. A.

The Home Leaders will play their regular lineup.

In the preliminary game the Five Fingers will play a team from Woodstock.

BASKETBALL TONIGHT

Opening game of the series between Stone Ridge and the Home Leaders at B. W. S. Hall, High Falls, tonight. The winner of this series will have a pretty good claim on the semi-pro championship of Ulster county, as, with the exception of Saugerties, these two teams comprise players on about every other team of importance. There will be a good preliminary game tonight.

The Fuller Clermonts will play the Walkkill Prison team tonight. The Clermonts will be minus three of their regular players—Al Short, Bink Van Etten and Munson. The first two are playing in the game at B. W. S. hall and Munson is playing with the Port Ewen Sioux five.

Federated Business Session.

Wednesday evening the annual business session of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster county was held at McCabe's Restaurant on Wall street and at that time the Association took steps to bring about changes in various game laws and regulations which the member clubs felt would benefit the hunters and also protect the game and fish and make for better hunting and fishing.

This year the annual meeting has been divided into two parts, the one last evening being for the purpose of disposing of routine business so that the second session which will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday evening at which time Conservation Commissioner Lithgow Osborne will be the speaker, may be devoted more to a social affair. Members of the clubs are invited to attend the meeting next Tuesday and hear Commissioner Osborne. Tickets are now on sale by all member clubs and it is expected that at least 200 will attend the meeting.

Next Tuesday's meeting with the conservation commissioner as speaker, and perhaps two other members of the department present, is the most pretentious affair which the Federation has thus far engaged in and promises to be a complete success. Any member of any of the affiliated clubs is invited to attend this meeting and dinner and hear the commissioner. Reservations must be in by Monday morning, but the Governor Clinton Hotel will be able to care for 10 per cent above reservations and that number of tickets will be on sale at the door the night of the banquet so any member who may find himself able to come at the last moment will be taken care of.

Twelve of the fourteen clubs of the Federation were represented at the session. Delegates being present from the following clubs, Ellenville Chapter, Isaak Walton League; Phoenicia Fish and Game Association; Modena Rod and Gun Club; Rondout Valley Rod and Gun Club; Rosendale Sportsmen's Association; Saugerties Fish and Game Association; Southern Ulster Fish and Game Club; Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association; Walkkill Rod and Gun Club; Woodstock Fish and Game Association; Upper Esopus Creek Fish and Game Association and Marlborough Sportsmen's Association.

Daniel F. Vanderlyn of Ellenville, president, presided at the business session following the dinner. Daniel Van Alst of Walkkill, vice president, and Floyd Van Gorder of Ellenville, secretary-treasurer, were also present.

A report of the treasurer showed the association in good financial condition with a balance of $188.56 after much activity during the past year. The Federation sent a delegate to the 50th anniversary of conservation at Lake Placid, held the annual field day which produced a substantial profit beside bringing the members together for the annual shooting matches, and in addition much was accomplished toward fish and game conservation.

Coles Gives Report
Rowell Coles, chairman of the field day committee, reported the shoot last fall as the best yet held with some 65 shooters as compared to 45 the previous year. The committee commended the clubs for their donation of prizes and Mr. Coles said that at least nine-tenths of the members who shot won prizes.

Ray Caunitz, who attended the Lake Placid convention as a local delegate, reported. He said that he had gone at the last moment when Charles Finch had been prevented by illness in his family. He gave a very interesting report of the events held and stated that he had learned that the state had purchased large tracts of land for conservation. In Delaware county it was stated 2,000 acres would be devoted to deer and bear conservation and that deer would be exterminated for bear there. He reported that the conservation department had found feeding deer by a new cake food to be very successful.

At the meeting a report had been made of a new food for trout which gave exceptional growth in a very short period. On the social activities in connection with the convention he made a brief report and stated that John Van Gonsic of the local Federation had entered the trap shooting contest and had broken 94 out of 100 birds and had been practically assured of fourth place. The winner was from Herkimer county. Exceptional shooting was reported. He stated that the department intended to write a letter of commendation to the Walkkill Club on its record of hatching pheasant eggs.

In referring to the trip up Whiteface Mountain for the dedication of the new road, Mr. Caunitz reported that through some mix-up the highway officials had permitted the tourists to follow the presidential party to the mountain and the members of the conservation department and delegates to the convention had been denied permission to go up for the ceremonies as he had not been able to attend them.

The report was accepted and filed.

Report Next Thursday
President Vanderlyn appointed as a nominating committee to report back at the meeting next Thursday Ed Huben of Rosendale, Nelson Bold of Woodstock and Edwin Schwab of Rondout Valley.

Mr. Goffing, principal clerk of the Conservation Department, who has in charge the approval of fish applications, was not present at the meeting but applications for stocking were received by President Vanderlyn and will be processed by mail today to the department. Any individual wishing to stock fish will be notified by mail today at the department.

President Vanderlyn reported the following fish as received from the Conservation Department last year for distribution among the fourteen member clubs:

Brook trout—35,700 fingerlings, 3,500 were legal size.
Brown trout—107,359 of which 3,500 were legal size.
Pike perch—2,400,000 fry.
Hullheads—2,400 fingerlings.
Small mouth bass—26,000 fry.
Calico bass—400 adult.
Large mouth bass—15,300 advanced fry.
Yellow perch—18,500 fingerlings.
Shad—2,787,750 fry.

1936 Game Quota

Game quota for Ulster county as set by the Department for 1936 is: Cottontail rabbits, 718; this includes the quotas for the past two years which were withheld at request of the Federation because of the fact that rabbits were on the decline. Varying hares, 309. Cuck pheasants, 45. Adult pheasants, 99. Young pheasants, 724. Pheasant eggs, 2,443. These eggs may be traded two eggs for one chick up to 643 chicks if desired. Quail, 500.

It was reported by several members that quail were on the increase in the county and several requests were made for quail from the state. A five year plan has been tried out in the county with the quail being placed in four known favorable places. As quail have been seen in other localities of late it is believed by some members that the distribution should be extended to other localities. The quail experiment still has two years to run but reports showed that definite progress is being made and that quail are again becoming quite general throughout the county, particularly in grain and fruit sections where food is plentiful. Reports of quail in numbers come from southern Ulster, the vicinity of New Paltz and Modena and up the valley north from Mt. Marion to the Big Vly and out the Rondout Valley.

The matter of two clubs who have fallen in arrears was taken up and time to renew their membership was permitted provided it is done immediately. It was disclosed that one club had expressed a belief that even though it did not join the Federation the club would still get its quota of game and fish. This matter was discussed at length and it was expressed as the opinion of the club that no such thing would exist and it was stated that if the club desired to have a show-down this year that it would settle the question for the future. The clubs do not renew their membership their quotas as allocated at the meeting last evening will be re-apportioned among the member clubs in good standing.

Quail Situation
Rowell Coles spoke of the quail situation. He said that 30 years ago he recalled the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association had been a very active quail club. Quail had been bought as low as $1.50 a dozen and released and in the locality of Kingston was to be found then the best quail hunting in the United States. Increase in the price of the birds went on and a hard winter killed the birds until they were almost extinct. He said that once having been a natural haven for these birds he believed it could be made one and he said he believed the state should give attention to this locality as a quail country.

Ed Huben said that this matter should be brought to the attention of Gardiner Bump and if found possible quail should be distributed in place localities than the four original places selected. Daniel Van Alst said quail would migrate ten miles to suitable country and he found fruit localities good ground as there was grass and protection and frequently grain was planted in orchards. From Marlborough came a report that while none had been released there quail were coming back.

The Federation voted to have inscribed on the trophies awarded at the annual Field Day, the names of the individual winner and the team name. Mr. Coles again offered the facilities of the Ulster County Gun Club for the annual event next fall.

Fox Bounty Revocation
Mr. West of the Upper Esopus Club offered a resolution which was adopted, that the Federation petition the Ulster County Board of Supervisors to restore the $3 bounty on gray foxes. He said the gray fox was becoming a nuisance and destroyed large quantities of game. The bounty has been $1 for both gray and red foxes since a reduction was made some time ago from $2 to $1 for grays. The resolution was adopted.

Ray Caunitz brought up the question of large pike perch in the upper Esopus valley. He said it was a detriment to fishing and he had personally seen pike perch weighing up to five pounds taken. He reported one pool in Broad Street Hollow which was filled with these huge fish. They were so well fed on state fish they would not take bait. He suggested setting the state fishery laws in this matter be brought to the attention of the state and see whether pike perch could not be bettered from the Esopus by the state. The fish in Broad Street Hollow were as big as 28 to 30 inches in length. This brought up the question of carp in the Hudson and this too will be investigated.

Ray Caunitz also brought up the topic of fish derroving catch and stated that at the winter pool last summer he had seen large Rainbow trout and smaller trout. A six inch trout had been observed to attempt to eat a three inch trout. This demonstrated the great loss of small fry when placed in the streams he said.

Opportunity to Fish Law
Among the matters which the Federation voted on record as opposing was the law which permits a license to use two guns with stream bottle catch. Nelson Snyder moved that the total number and assemblyman be instructed to oppose this and have the present law altered so that one man would not be permitted to use 30 hooks.

A uniform opening date for upland game was also advocated by a resolution of Dan Van Alst. He said some progress was made along this line last year but the Federation should continue to hammer away at it until the desired end was achieved. The matter of joining the State Conservation Council was left up to a committee of the officers and past presidents of the association. If the committee can make arrangements for a reasonable lump sum payment for all Federation members the committee has power to do so. It was suggested that with 2,300 members the present rate of 10 cents per member was far too much. It was suggested that perhaps a sum less than $50 could be arranged to take in all memberships.

Fred Housman of Phoenicia proposed a change in the open season for deer in Ulster county. He said that the present open season was too early and suggested that November 15 to 30 be recommended. The small number of deer taken last year he said was due to several reasons. One was that the leaves were not off trees, another that with leaves so thick many hunters were shot. If the season were opened after the leaves were gone losses could be saved.

Beside the safety feature Mr. Housman said that the fire hazard in the woods would be reduced and the liability of having the woods closed during deer season because of forest fires would be eliminated. This fire hazard was one of the principal objects to be considered together with the possible saving of human life by fewer accidents. Early snow would permit tracking of deer. The later date would not conflict with the bird season and further if the season was a warm one like 1935 he said it was impossible to keep a deer carcass in a hunting camp and prevent its spoiling. His recommendation was put in the form of a motion and was adopted.

It was also voted to favor a uniform closing date for cottontail rabbits and varying hares and the date suggested was January 31. At present varying deer season closes January 1 and cottontails February 1. The Federation also endorsed a bag limit of four rabbits per day.

Non-Resident Hunters
Nelson Snyder brought to the attention of the meeting agitation which is being made to permit non-resident hunters to tag a day's bag and return next day to the woods and take another day limit. This could be repeated for several days and the non-resident then transport home a car full of game. Under the present law a non-resident cannot transport more than a day's bag. He must return home with his bag and then come back next day and start over. Under the provision which is now being agitated a non-resident could have a game processor or other officer tag his game and remain in the state for the entire season before returning home with his bag. This change he said would not be a good one. The club took no action but the legislative committee will keep in touch with the situation.

The meeting then adjourned and will be continued next Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the banquet at the Governor Clinton Hotel when the election of officers will be held and Commissioner Osborne will speak.

Every Member of the Chicago Cubs Is to Get a Raise in Salary

Chicago, Jan. 9 (AP).—The big Wrigley bank roll, once the pride and joy of the winter ivory marts, caused a great celebration at Mt. Ida, Ark., and all other winter headquarters of the Chicago Cub champions today.

Instead of being used to buy a player at five or six figures, the famous bankroll was being peeled to give every one of 23 Cubs a pay boost for 1936.

Elated over the proof of his baseball theory that rewards to hustling players are more important to a team's success than the purchase of a star a year, Owner Phil K. Wrigley announced last night that all his players would receive a raise in salary next season. Except to say that no player would be disappointed, the youthful Cub owner refused to discuss the range of wage increases.

Owner Wrigley's action probably marks the first time in major league baseball history that a whole club from manager down to the lowest paid regular received a pay boost at one time. Colonel Jake Ruppert, of the Yankees, and the late Frank J. Navin, of Detroit, have been liberal but neither went as far as Wrigley has gone.

When Young Wrigley took control of the Cubs after his father's death, he warned his assistants he was against spending big money for ball players like his father had done.

Develop Young Players.
"Get young players, develop them, reward them liberally as they improve," he said. "Such a system will do far more good and bring far greater success than to go out on the market with $100,000 and buy an established star."

He weakened in the fall of 1933, buying Outfielder Chuck Klein from the Philles for approximately $75,000, but he did so probably in deference to the memory of his father, who bought Klein's services for years. As it developed, Klein has been of little use to the Cubs, who offered him back to the Phils last December for Pitcher Curt Davis and were turned down because the Phils wanted cash to boot.

Lonnie Warneke, pitching star who won the two Cub victories in the world series last fall, was expected to be the chief beneficiary of the wholesale wage increase. Catcher Leo (Gaby) Hartnett, Outfielders Augie Galan and Frank Demaree and Pitcher Bill Lee also were known to be in line for exceptional good news. Under Wrigley's bonus system, whereby a player's salary is raised month by month or lowered to the contract figures in accordance with his play during that period, Galan was reported to have received and kept four salary boosts during the 1935 season.

Jersey City—Karl Pojello, 200, defeated Faranc Laubascher, 210, two straight falls.

Veteran Players at Basketball Game

Wednesday was oldtimers night at the Municipal Auditorium. Five of the veteran basketball players who starred in bygone days at the Auditorium when it was Company Army were present at the Citrus Service-Philadelphia Hebrews game, and were introduced by Announcer Sam Riber.

The quintet of retired cagers consisted of Morris Tome, Nick Harvey, John Pennino, Harry Frankel and Ed Wacener. Frank Morgenweck, who was managing teams when these oldtimers were in their prime, and is still going strong stood in the group as the graying ex-tossers took their bows.

Consider Revision in Paying WPA Workers

Many of the men and women employed on WPA projects in Kingston have not been paid in five or six weeks, and daily complaints are being lodged with Mayor Helselman from those employed asking that he try and do something toward having the men paid more promptly. The delay is due to the fact that the payroll is sent to Albany by the local WPA and the pay checks are made out there.

Earlier in the week Mayor Helselman telegraphed Harry Hopkins, national WPA administrator at Washington, calling attention to the delay in paying off the men in Kingston and asking that the checks be made out in Kingston and the men paid weekly.

Mayor Helselman today received the following telegram from Corrin G. Hill, assistant administrator, stating: "Reference to your telegram of January 7. Revision in WPA pay-off procedure under consideration. However, weekly pay-off is not contemplated because of excess expense and impracticability."

It will be seen by the above telegram that the men will not be paid weekly, but the city authorities hope that at least the men's pay will not be held up for six weeks as at present.

Milne Case Set Aside Pending New Charges
New York, Jan. 9 (AP).—Hearing of extortion charges against Caleb Milne, 4th, scheduled for this afternoon before United States Commissioner Garrett W. Cotter, is likely to be postponed.

Assistant U. S. Attorney J. Howard Carter indicated an adjournment had been agreed upon because the government had not determined on which of several possible charges to prosecute Milne.

Milne, 23-year-old textile heir, who confessed he "kidnaped" himself, now is charged with the use of the mails in an attempt to extort $20,000 from Caleb Jones Milne of Philadelphia, his wealthy grandfather. He is at liberty on $7,500 bail.
